MR. N. L. THOMAS, PRINCIPAL

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The world is in need of honest, upright, loyal, and progressive citizens. Remember, that there is a place for each of you, and if you assume this responsibility, you will be an asset to society; on the other hand, if you do not, you will be a liability.

The future of America depends on the youth of today. I ask that you prepare yourself in such a way that you will be an aid to the progress and development of this great country of ours.

With this parting message I send you forth, wishing success and happiness for each of you.

Hail Poquoson !

There is a place we love to be,
Close by the river shore.
There stands our dear old high school,
Which we'll love forever more.

CHORUS

Oh! Hail to thee, Poquoson High,
With your colors maroon and gold.
Your clubs, your football and such teams,
Each memory dear we'll hold.
Oh! Alma Mater, to thee we sing
Our songs of highest praise,
That through the ages on and on,
Your honor we may raise.

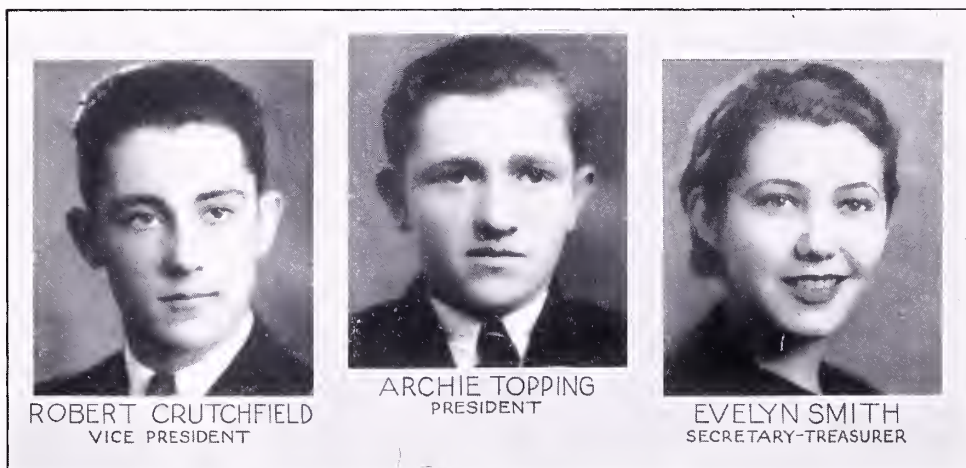

In you, Poquoson High School,
We put our greatest faith.
We know that you, ole P. H. S.,
Will win in every race.

BEATRICE MAE BALLARD

"Beattie"

"A smile will go a long, long way."

Athletic Association '34, Glee Club '34, Representative of Honor Council '33, Secretary and Treasurer of Junior Class '34.

Here's to Beatrice, our jolly pal, who is always ready to lend a helping hand. May her ambition to be a journalist be gratified.

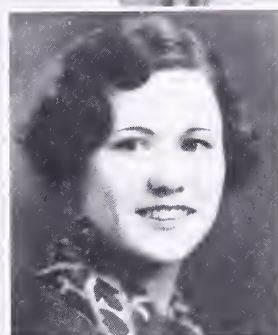

RUBY LEE BERRY

"Her ways are ways of pleasantness,
And all her paths are peace."

Glee Club '33, '34.

Ruby's sweet smile and gentle manners have won for her a host of friends at P. H. S. May she always find success wherever she goes.

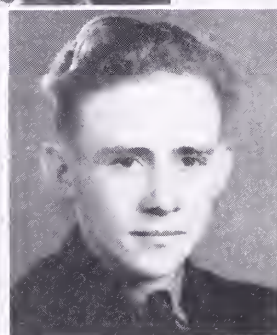

MELVILLE LAWRENCE
BRADSHAW

"Nebbie"

"An ounce of contentment is worth a pound of sadness."

Basketball '34, '35, Monogram Club '34, '35, Athletic Association '34, '35.

Nebbie's hobby is pestering the Seniors. Even though he is a pest, Nebbie is a true friend.

ANNIE GERTRUDE CROCKETT

"Ann"

"To speak kindly of each other is well,
But to act kindly is best of all."

What would we do without Ann? She is here, there, and everywhere, speaking a word of cheer. We are sure, if Ann is as successful when she leaves our Alma Mater as when here, she will always be on top.

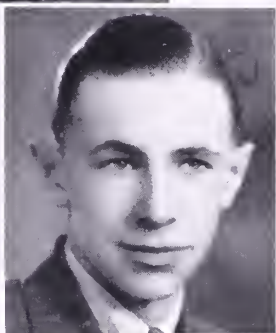

KATHERINE LOUISE CROCKETT

"Kacky"

"Not too silent, not too gay,
But a true classmate in every way."

Just take a peep at one of our cheerful Seniors. Kacky has the willingness to help anyone in trouble, and a warm smile for all. She is indeed a true pal. Good luck to our Kacky.

ELMER BERKLEY CROCKETT

"Berk"

"Peace is rarely denied to the peaceful."

Berk is one of a peaceful nature, who has always won a host of pals. We feel certain that he will make as many friends in the future as he has in the past.

ROBERT RENNOLDS
CRUTCHFIELD

"Crutchie"

"He can conquer who believes he can."

President Student Body '34, '35, Vice-President Senior Class '35, President Monogram Club '35, Basketball Team '33, '34, '35, Football Team '32, '33, Glee Club '35, Annual Staff '35, Basketball Manager '34.

IDA MARGARET COOPER

"Smiles"

"A true friend is forever a friend."

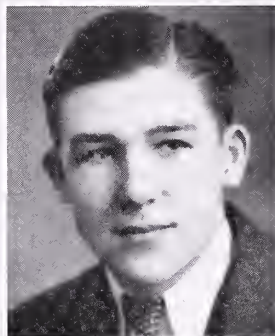

Studios, lovable, true, friendly, and sympathetic—these are merely a few of Margaret's good traits. She is a capable student, as her grades prove. With these characteristics, how can she fail?

ROBERT LESLIE DAWSON

"Lallie"

"Who mixed reason with pleasure and wisdom with mirth."

Who can resist his appealing smile and his droll and unexpected flashes of humor? His broad sympathy, his intellectual tolerance, and his constructive friendliness will win for him success and a host of friends.

ETHEL MAE EURE

"Sambo"

"To know her is to love her."

We are proud to claim Ethel as our classmate. She is a fine student, a cheerful associate, and a generous, loyal friend. It would be impossible to exaggerate her good qualities. We will miss her in person but never in memory, for she will live with us always.

CAROLYN FORREST FIRTH

"Carnie"

"Speech is great, but silence is greater."

Carnie has won a place in the hearts of her fellow students that will last forever. With her quiet, calm nature, we feel sure she will always succeed.

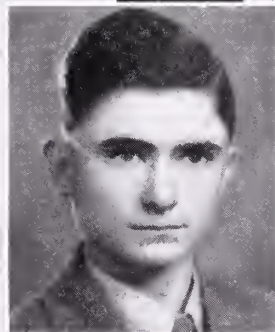

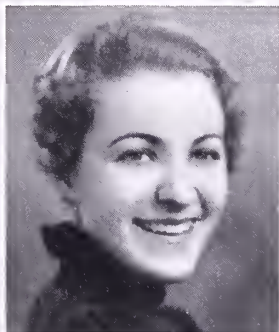

LESTER ELEC GAINES

"Gaines"

"Smile and the world smiles with you."

Fun-loving, mischievous and likable—these three words accurately describe our pal Gaines. May his desire to become a lawyer be gratified.

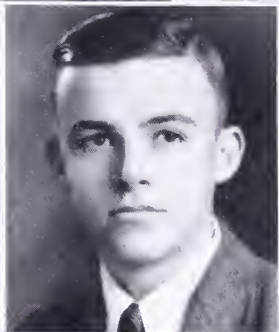

EMMA LEE GREEN

"Yemma-T"

"A world of wit, a heart of gold,
A brilliant mind are hers we're told."

Secretary and Treasurer of Class '33, Literary Society '33, Glee Club '35, Athletic Association '34, Feature Editor of Annual '35.

Hail to our most attractive senior, who has all the qualities of an ideal girl. While here she has won for herself a place in the hearts of all who know her. We wish her the best of luck.

EUGENE HOGE

"Hogie"

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

If helping others gains friends, "Hogie" has them. During his four years at P. H. S. he has won many friends with his kind disposition. Here's luck and success to him.

MARY ELIZABETH HOPKINS

"Lizzy"

"Nothing is rarer than real goodness."

Many are the friends won by Lizzy with her sweet, lovable disposition during her years at P. H. S. Good luck to you always, Lizzy.

MISSOURI KATHERINE HOPKINS

"Kat"

"If effort brings success, fame is hers."

Kat is a true friend and the most athletic girl in the Senior Class. She is intelligent, witty and loyal. May the best of all good things be hers.

HUGH GORDON HOPKINS

"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

Here is one of our quiet, studious classmates whom everyone likes. He is grave and serious of mien. Who knows what mighty thoughts may be passing through his mind.

CHARLES WHITE HORNSBY

"A merry heart goes with you all day long."

The wit's wound up. Here comes Charlie, a real pal, a true friend, and a good sport. Although he likes to be witty and mischievous at times, he can settle down and work when he wishes. With the outstanding qualities that characterize him, he is bound to succeed.

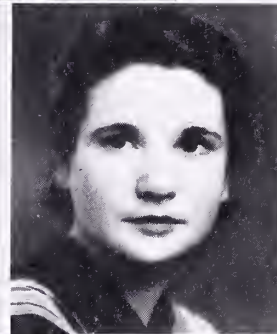

LEVENIA GERTRUDE JOYNER

"Beanie"

"Love, goodness, and beauty in her person shine."

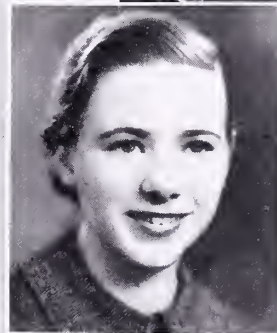

Beanie's sweet disposition has won for her a host of life long friends at P. H. S. May she never lose her happiness and sunny smile.

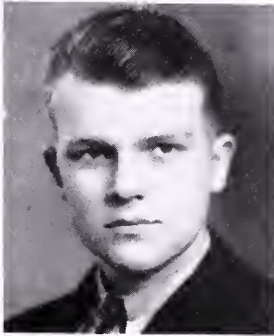

CARRIE MAE JOHNSON

"Frame your mind to mirth."

Carrie is always in for fun—and how! Her dignified manner in class might fool you for a while but just give her a chance. She is a dependable friend and with her determination great things are expected of her.

JOHN HEALY LAWSON

"H-E"

"Wonderous is the strength of cheerfulness."

Glee Club '32, '33, '34, '35, Captain of Basketball Team '35, President Athletic Association '35, Vice President Monogram Club '35, Advertising Manager of Annual '35.

Here he is—one of our biggest teases! But in spite of his fun loving and mischievous nature, you couldn't have a truer friend than "H-E." He is especially good as an athlete.

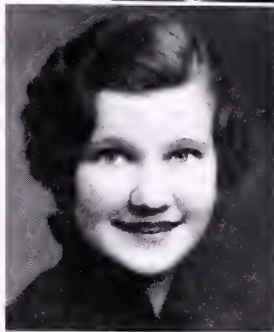

HELEN MORELAND MILLS

"Duffy"

"Never too sober, never too gay, But a rare, good girl in every way."

Representative to Honor Council '33, Athletic Association '34, Editor-in-chief of the Annual '35.

Hail to our Editor-in-Chief! Duffy has had much to do towards making our Annual a success. She is always ready to give her services to anyone in need of them. She has won many true friends at P. H. S.

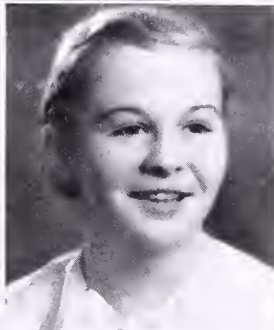

HILDA ESTELLE MILLS

"This lass so neat, with smile so sweet."

Glee Club '33, '34, '35.

Hilda's cheerful disposition, ready wit and keen sense of humor always brighten the day. She takes life as it comes and does not worry about the future. We are sure success is bound to come her way.

RUTH HOPKINS MOORE

"Ruthie"

"A laugh is worth a hundred groans in any market."

Wherever Ruth is, you will always find sunshine. Her bright and cheerful laugh cheers all who know her. May her life always be as cheerful as in the past.

JOHN CARY MOORE

"The surest way not to fail is to determine to succeed."

Assistant Advertising Manager '35,
Representative of Student Government '35.

John is always ready to help his fellow classmates in what ever he can. If he retains this attitude, we feel sure he will succeed in life.

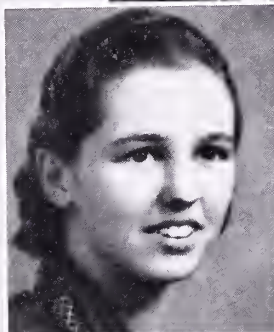

ALICE LUCILLE MOORE

"Ceile"

"Good sense and good nature ever join."

Here's to a real sport and a true friend to us all. She has been a faithful pupil at P. H. S. and a good worker. In everything she is always willing to help. We wish you the best of luck, Lucille.

PEARLE LEVENIA MOORE

"Peggy"

"To err is human, to forgive divine."

Forgiveness is a great thing. No matter what the offense, Peggy is ready to forgive. We feel certain that this excellent trait will carry her through life successfully.

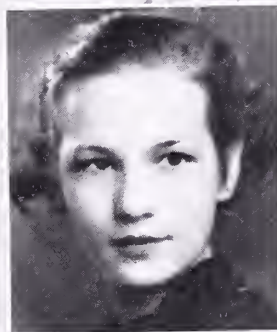

MARY SPARRER MORSE

"Morsie"

"Variety is the spice of life."

President Junior Class '34, Art Editor '35.

Mary is our one classmate who possesses an artistic talent. She has done great work on our staff as Art Editor. We know she'll make a high mark in life. Watch Mary!

ARTHUR GLENN PAGE

"Cheaty"

"The field is won by those who believe in winning."

Secretary and Treasurer Monogram Club '35, Basketball '34, '35, Athletic Association '35.

PAULINE VIRGINIA PRESSON

"Polly"

"True to herself, true to her friends, True to her duty always."

Polly is just another one of our dignified seniors, who is not too serious, not too gay, but a bit humorous when necessary. Words that describe her character and sweet disposition would be too numerous to mention here. She is expected to be a success.

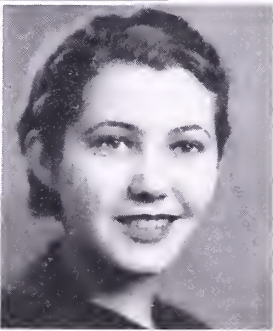

ROSE M. RICHARDSON

"Reds"

"The rising blushes, which her cheeks
o'er spread,
Are opening roses in a lily bed."

Vice-President of Class '33, Glee Club '33, '35.

"Reds" is just a little slip of a thing, and so good natured that we all just have to love her. With her abilities we are sure that she will find life successful.

EVELYN TODD SMITH

"Ebbby"

"Those who smile are smiled upon."

President of Class '33, Secretary and Treasurer of Class '35.

Ebbby is one of our classmates who possesses a great poetical ability. When she receives her sheepskin, a vacancy will be left at P. H. S. that will be hard to fill. Her cheerful smile and friendly word will be missed by all. We are proud to predict big things for the author of our class poem.

PEARL CATHERINE SHOWALTER

"Kitty"

"Nothing great is ever achieved without enthusaism."

Vice-President Junior Class '34,
Honor Council '33, Glee Club '33, '34,
'35, Advertising Staff '35, Athletic Association '34.

If this quotation be true, our enthusiastic Kitty is surely on the road to success. Whatever Kitty starts, she starts with enthusiasm. We shall hate to have her leave us.

JOSEPH ARCHIBALD TOPPING

"Duck"

Monogram Club '33, '34, President of Class '35, Vice-President of Athletic Association '35, Vice-President of Class '32, Secretary and Treasurer of Student Body '35, Football '33,
Basketball '34, '35, Business Staff '35.

"A little work, a little play,
Help to keep the blues away."

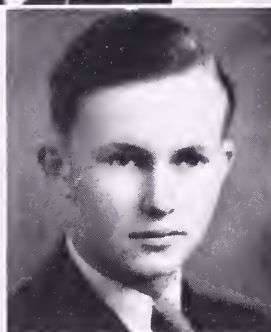

STANLEY WISE WHITE

"Peter"

"My duty is done, my conscience is clear."

Vice-President Student Body '35,
Monogram Club '35, Football '32, '33,
Baseball '33, Glee Club '35, Advertising Staff '35.

BERNIE WILLARD WHITE

"B. W."

"The only way to have a freind is to be one."

I am sure everyone feels as if he were a friend of B. W.'s, because he is a friend to everyone. To know him is to be his friend. We shall miss him and his mischievous actions.

ASHTON SINCLAIR WATKINS

"Toots"

"What wonders his eyes behold,
Sometimes mischievous,
Sometimes bold,
Sometimes good,
Sometimes bad,
Often dreamy, seldom sad."

Football '32, Athletic Association
'35, Glee Club '34.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In September 1931 we left our homes for Poquoson High School with a feeling of pride because we had at last reached the beginning of the desired goal for which we had been striving; we were Freshmen in high school. There were twenty-eight of us, who represented many varieties of appearances, disposition, abilities, and talents, and we knew that we had a very steep ladder to climb, but we have marched together to a steady rhythm of perseverance and contentment along the way that has led to fulfillment of purpose.

When we returned to school in 1932, we had our new building which we appreciated very much. The pupils from the other districts in the county entered our school and our association with them has been very pleasant. There were forty-seven of us enrolled as Sophomores. We had many more advantages this year than the preceding one and in our new school home our work was a pleasure.

September 1933 saw us back at school as Juniors. There were forty-five of us now and we worked with a greater determination than ever before because we realized that the top of the ladder was in sight. We had been very anxious to become Juniors because of the social events which were always enjoyed. We entertained the Seniors at Buckroe Beach and had a very enjoyable time.

In September 1934 we were back in our familiar places as Seniors. Between the moving from classroom to classroom and the joyful meeting of friends, was the thought that only the last stretch of the home run to the goal of graduation lay ahead of us. Miss Sanford, our sponsor, realized more than we the importance of our work and our duty to our school. She has worked diligently and patiently and with her guidance and leadership our senior year has been a great success. In our graduating class there are thirty-seven boys and girls of today, but men and women of tomorrow.

The addition of the Commercial Department, with Miss Sasher as teacher, has been a great asset to our school. Our greatest achievement was the publication of our school annual.

On behalf of the Senior Class I want to thank our principal, Mr. Thomas, and the members of the faculty for the kindness shown and the help given us in the past year. We shall dearly hold in memory their teachings which have guided us. May we follow in their footsteps, living worthily of the seal put upon us by our Alma Mater.

As we separate, we shall carry with us the memory of some sweet companionship, of Heaven's truest, dearest gift—a friend.

May we who gaze expectant toward the future

From nature learn some truths sublime,

To help us in the spending of our lives,

Some mark to leave upon the sands of time.

CLASS PROPHECY OF '35

It was the Senior Class of '35 meeting for the last time. A profound silence hung over the entire class. Though no one was in the mood for a party, I proposed one. Yes! a party that was to take place in ten years. I even went so far as to promise to remind them lest they forget.

Ten years ago today! Why it seemed only yesterday. Yet when I thought of everything that had happened between then and now, it might easily have been a century. As I slowly descended the stairs, the clock was tolling the last stroke of nine, and, as yet, no one had arrived. Ah! the door bell was ringing. Who would it be? I couldn't imagine for I had hardly seen any of my famous friends in all these years. With immeasurable excitement I flew to open the door, but with equally as much disappointment I again closed it. It was only a telegram. Hurriedly I tore it open and read its contents. It was from the most famous air pilot of the day, B. W. White, Jr., and Rose Richardson, the hostess of his plane. They sent their regrets. They had been sent on special duty to Manchuria to take a squad of trained nurses. Among the nurses were Evelyn Smith, Ethel Eure, Elizabeth Hopkins, and Hilda Mills. They were sent, I gathered, to join Rev. Archie Topping, Margaret Cooper, and Pauline Presson who were striving to stamp out an epidemic of a strange fever. Rev. Topping had sent first for the successful nurses, Margaret and Pauline, and then the famous Dr. Stanley White and his staff of nurses—all, it seemed, of our class of '35.

"Oh dear!" I exclaimed, not thinking once of their danger of going into the horrible disease, "I suppose that tiny scrap of paper just about wrecks our party." With this I picked up the afternoon paper to pass away the time until my guests began to arrive. "Robert Crutchfield, prominent business man, exploring in Africa, captures only black panther ever seen," stared me in the face. Another member of the class party absent! Why, what was this? A bridge cave-in, Berkley Crockett, the great electrical engineer, already arrived to make new plans for a safe and modern structure. Mr. John Moore was on his way from the far east to furnish the capital." He could well afford to, for he owned half the stock on Wall Street. "Well, just look at this! Famous typists to meet here tonight, including the president's private secretary, Helen Mills, and several governors' secretaries including Catherine Showalter, Carrie Johnson, Lucille Moore, and Marguerite Phillips. Before I could utter a word, the phone rang. Marie ran to answer it, but I waved her aside. More regrets from a member of the Senior Class of '35, I knew.

"Dinner is getting cold, and the ices are no longer fresh-looking, Mademoiselle," lamented Marie.

"Send them around to the orphanage, Marie. There will be no party," I managed to say.

The party calling long distance was Emma Lee Green, a model in Carolyn Firth's dress shop in Paris. It seemed that some American tourist there desired immediately a fashion show of the latest creations. Of course she had to stay.

Music! That's what I needed to heighten my spirits . . . A soft voice was singing an old familiar song of ten years ago. Why, it was surely Pearle Moore, Song Bird of the South, with Charles Hornsby's Orchestra. Pearle was saying "Beatty, I hope your party is a tremendous success. Sorry Charles and I can't be there, but you understand our Public." The soft music had lulled me somewhat when I heard another familiar voice, that of Hugh Hopkins, state farming instructor giving special information to Eugene Hoge, the largest southern planter, on how to rotate crops successfully. This talk ended—to be followed by a scene from a court trial of immense interest. No wonder, for Lester Gaines was acting as lawyer for the defendant. They were sure of winning the case! This was followed by a program of little or no interest, so I again began to turn the dial slowly. Now, there was a familiar voice. It was none other than that of Mary Morse. Mary was lecturing on how to become a model wife. Her speech was interrupted by the door bell. It was Missouri Hopkins, my most efficient reporter. "Missouri, I thought you were in Washington getting a report on the president's address."

"I sent someone in my place. I didn't want you to be alone tonight—paper or no paper," she replied. "I brought you this," she said after much thought.

It was another telegram, this time from back east in Virginia. It was from two of my absent guests, Ruth Moore, teacher of French, at William and Mary, and Levenia Joyner, Dean of Women. They, too, sent their regrets.

Every one seemed to be busy with work. After receiving so many regrets, Missouri and I planned to spend a quiet evening. But this was not to be, for we were called upon by the president and vice-president, of the firm of Lawson & Page. They stayed only long enough to carry out some important advertising transactions. Then John H. and Glenn were on their way to a quiet vacation in the Alps.

After John H. and Glenn left, Missouri said quite casually, "It seems we have heard from all the Graduating Class of '35, with the exception of Ruby Berry. Before she could finish, I interrupted, 'Oh! Ruby is here in California operating one of her beauty parlors.'"

"Of course, and Katherine Crockett and Annie Crockett are with her, are they not?"

Before I could reply, the house was shaken by a terrific explosion outside. We were terrified.

"It's nothing," informed a policeman," only that inventor, Leslie Dawson, trying to invent a gas powerful enough to push him and his rocket ship to the moon. Guess he's gone, poor man!"

We left him still talking. In ten minutes Missouri and I had the complete story from the smiling and unshaken Leslie and a nearby taxi driver, Ashton Watkins.

The time has arrived when we have to enter into a large world of duties and experiences. We believe in many great and good things.

First and Supremely, we believe in God our Creator and Preserver.

We believe in our future, and in the possibilities of advancement, and we realize that in all progress lies the certainty of change.

As a child believes most of all in its Mother, we believe in our High School, and all the educational advantages that it represents.

We cannot tell you how deeply we believe in our principal and teachers who have labored so faithfully and patiently in our behalf.

We believe in our National Flag with its glorious stars and stripes of Union and Liberty.

We believe in our Student Government, a body which has labored very faithfully to make the school better in every way.

We believe in our motto, "Tonight we are launched. Where shall we anchor?"

SENIOR MESSAGE

As Freshmen we started out
To seek a higher goal.
As Sophomores, a higher step,
Each memory dear we hold.

Then we were Juniors, oh, how great!
With only one more year
To spend at dear old P. H. S.
A place we love so dear.

Now that we are Seniors,
So soon from thee to part,
We leave to you this message
From each and every heart.

The four years spent at P. H. S.
Dear to us have been.
Your influence which will ever live
Will help us each task to win.

We thank our school for making
Our days so glad and bright,
And all through life our school
Will be our shining beacon light.

Evelyn Smith '35.

Last Will and Testament of Senior Class, '35

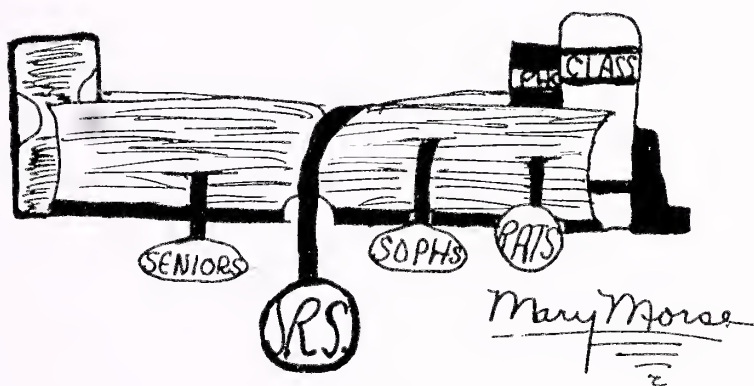

As we, the Senior Class of 1935, finish our happy stay in good old Poquoson where we have spent four short but fruitful years, feel that it is necessary to declare this our last will and testament.

It is our desire to leave behind us our inspiration and joys for the succeeding classes and to bequeath our assets to those who will help Poquoson High School in all of its undertakings.

1. To Mr. Thomas, our principal, we do hereby bequeath our thanks for his work in our behalf.
2. To Miss Sanford, our home-room teacher, we leave a place in our hearts for her thought of our every need.
3. To the remainder of our faculty, who have been our friendly, untiring, and faithful instructors, we bequeath our highest appreciation for all they have done.
4. To the Junior Class, as a whole, we will our desire to serve better our dear Poquoson High.
5. The members of the class wish to will their personal assets as follows:
 1. Evelyn Smith wills her sweet smile to Catherine Ensley.
 2. Lucille Moore wills her study of Latin to Neva Burcher and Doris Bunting.
 3. Charles Hornsby wills to his brother, Robert, the ability to play a saxophone.
 4. Mary Morse wills her originality to Jessie Fay Forrest.
 5. Carrie Johnson wills her love for French and Monsieur Topping to Martha Lawson.

GIRLS PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLASS

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

This year both the Girls' and Boys' Physical Education Classes of Poquoson High School have a better system of organization than ever before. By special arrangement nearly all of the present enrollment takes physical education. There are four classes, two for the girls and two for the boys. Each class is divided into four teams and each team has a captain.

This department sponsors a school-wide program giving each boy and girl an opportunity to participate in athletics, rather than confining them to a few chosen and especially adapted individuals.

The program is divided into three parts: calisthenics, physical care, and games, with folk dancing included on the girls' program. Calisthenics play a very important part in our classes, for in this our minds and muscles must coordinate, therefore it not only develops the body but the mind also.

Through talks and discussions we are encouraged to take vigorous exercises, not, of course, the injurious type. Health rules are set forth and various related topics are discussed.

The department has a special Sportsmanship Code which it follows. The chief feature of this code is "Be Fair." This, however, is not to be confined to physical education alone. It can also be used in everyday life, in the classroom, on the campus, and at home. There is always a chance to play fair, regardless of where you are. Give the "other fellow" a square deal.

One of the first improvements in the girls' classes was the immediate adoption of gym suits. Each girl furnishes her own suit, which consists of blue shorts and a white shirt.

Each year awards are given for outstanding work. The winners are chosen according to their ability and the interest they have taken in the work during the year.
